Eclectic Magazine for 1859.

GREAT ARTISTIC ATTRACTION.
28 Beautiful Portraits on January Number!
To all Lovers of Choice Reading.

1. Your attention is respectfully invited to the character, contents, portrait embellishments and sterling literary value of THE ECLECTIC MAGAZINE.
2. For fourteen years THE ECLECTIC has found favor with the public and high commendation from the press. It is now in its forty fifth volume.
3. Its design is to present to its readers the choicest treasures of thought, and the ablest productions of European writers, as they appear in the Reviews and Periodicals of Great Britain.
4. Its combined excellencies and permanent value give it a just claim to a place in every well-selected public and private library.
5. It contains the cream from seven Foreign Quarterlies.
6. It contains the cream from nine Foreign Monthlies.
7. It contains articles from the ablest pens of England.
8. Forty-five Steel Portraits embellish it in 1858.
9. The forty Portraits are worth the price of the work at 12½ cents each.
10. The subscriber gets double the worth of his money. Considering what it contains, THE ECLECTIC is the cheapest, the safest, the best, the most desirable of all the monthlies. Try it. You will find it true. It saves time. It saves money.
11. No intelligent family—no young lady—no young gentleman, will wish to be without its rich treasures of knowledge, when once examined.
12. Its instructive, educational influences on the mind are worth ten times its cost.
13. The public press, far and near, give THE ECLECTIC strong commendations. Eminent men do the same.

"The merits of THE ECLECTIC need only to be known in order to be appreciated. THE ECLECTIC is worth many times its cost."—New York Observer.

We have received many pages of commendation. We add the CONTENTS OF JANUARY NO., selected from six Quarterlies and seven Monthlies.

PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 Exchange Street, Boston,

PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed. Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extensions procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.

British and other foreign patents procured thro' prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.

Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.

He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—

From the Hon. Charles Mason, Commissioner of Patents.

U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 10, 1853.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been employed as Solicitor, and has been to that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the Office. he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a courteous conduct and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him among the very best agents for the transaction of business with the office with whom I am acquainted

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.

From the Examiners of the Patent Office.

The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

EATON'S ARITHMETIC.

BANGOR, Oct. 30, 1858

At a meeting of the School Committee, held this evening, it was ORDERED—That EATON'S ARITHMETIC be introduced into our Intermediate, Grammar and Select Schools, instead of Greenleaf's, now in use. Attest:

(Signed) FRED'K R SHAW, Sec'y.

The decided satisfaction which this book gives in the school-room, and its unprecedented success, proves that it is a work of rare merit.

All those who are dissatisfied with the books now in use, are requested to give this an examination.

They will find it the most clear, concise, logical and practical treatise on written Arithmetic extant, following as it does the plan of Colburn's First Lessons—the two make a complete and popular series.

Copies furnished for examination on receipt of postage—15 cents—on application to

THE HIDDEN HAND.

BY EMMA D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH,
AUTHOR OF "THE BRIDE OF AN HUNDRED," "THE DESERTED WIFE," ETC., ETC., ETC.

"Have you got through?" asked the man at the door, tapping impatiently.

"No, no," said I, as directed.

He resumed his tramping up and down, and I went back to my patient. She beckoned me to come close, and whispered—

"Save my child! the living one I mean! hide her! oh, hide her from him! When he demands the babe, give him the poor little dead one—he cannot hurt that! And he will not know there was another. Oh! hide and save my child."

"Master, I was used to queer doings, but this was a little the queerest. But as I was to conceal that second child in order to save it, it was necessary to stop its mouth, for it was squalling like a wild cat. So I took a vial of paregoric from my pocket and gave it a drop, and it went off to sleep like an angel. I wrapped it up warm and lay it with my shawl and bonnet, in a dark corner. Just then the man rapped again.

"'Come in, master,' said I.

"'No, bring me the babe,' he said.

"I took up the dead infant. Its mother kissed its brow and dropped tears upon its little cold face; and I carried it to the man outside.

"'Is it asleep?' the villian asked me.

"'Yes, master,' said I, as I put it, well wrapped up, in his arms, 'very sound asleep.'

"'So much the better,' said the knave, walking away.

"I closed the door and went back to my patient. With her free hand she caressed mine and pressed it to her lips, and then held up her left hand, pointed to the wedding ring upon her third finger,

"'Draw it off and keep it,' she said; 'conceal the child under your shawl, and take her with you when you go, save her, and your fortune shall be made.'

"I declare, master, I hadn't time to think, before I heard one of them wretches rap at the door.

"'Come! get ready to go,' he said.

"She also beckoned me. I hastened to her. With eager whispers and imploring gestures she prayed me to take her ring and save her child.

"'But you,' said I—'who is to attend you?'

"'I do not know nor care! Save her!'

"The rapping continued. I ran to the corner where I had left my things. I put on my bonnet, made a sort of sling around my neck of the silk handkerchief, opened the large part of it like a hammock and laid the little sleeping babe there. Then I folded my big shawl around my breast and nobody any the wiser. The rapping was very impatient.

"'I am coming,' said I.

"'Remember!' whispered the poor girl.

"'I will,' said I, and went and opened the door. There stood t other villain with his head covered with black crape. I dreamt of nothing but blackheaded demons for six months afterward.

"'Are you ready?' says he.

"'Yes, your worship,' says I.

"'Come along, then.'

"And binding another silk handkerchief round my eyes, he led me along.

"Instead of my mule a carriage stood near the horse block.

"'Get in,' says he, holding the pistol to my ears by way of an argument.

"I got in. He jumped up upon the driver's seat, and we drove like the wind—in another direction from which we came, in course, for there was no carriage road there.' The carriage whirled along at such a rate it made me quite giddy. At last it stopped again. The man in the mask got down and opened the door.

"'Where are you taking me?' says I.

"'Be quiet,' says he, 'or——' and with that he put the pistol to my cheek, ordered me to get out, take the bandage from my eyes, and walk before him. I did so, and saw dimly that we were in a part of the country that I was never at before. We were in a dark road through a thick forest. On the left side of the road, in a clearing, stood an old house, a dim light was burning in a lower window.

"'Go on in here,' said the villian, putting the pistol in the back of my head. As the door stood ajar I went in to a narrow, dark passage, the man all the while at my back. He opened a door on the left side, and made me go into a dark room. Just then the unfortunate child, that had been moving restlessly began to wail! Well it might, poor starved thing!

"'What's that?' says the miscreant, under his breath, and stopping short.

"'It ain't nothing, sir,' says I, and 'hush-h-h' to the baby. But the poor little wretch roused a squall.

"'What is the meaning of this?' says he—'Where did that child come from? Why the demon don't you speak?' and with that he seized me again by the scruff of the neck and shook me.

"'Oh, Master, for the love of heaven don't!' said I, 'this is only a poor, unfortunate infant as a parents wanted to get out on the way, and hired me to take care on. And I have had it wrapped up under my shawl all the time 'cept when I was in your house, when I put it to sleep in the corner.

"'Humph! and you had that child concealed under your shawl when I first stopped you in the woods?'

"'In course, Master,' says I.

"'Where is it?'

"'Master,' says I, 'it's—it's a deal scarce!' for I hadn't another He ready.

"He broke out into a rude, scornful laugh, and seemed not half to believe me and yet not to care about questioning me too closely. He made me sit down then in the desk, and went out and turned the key on me. I wet my finger with the paregoric and put it to the baby's lips to quiet its pains of hunger. Then I heard a whispering in the next room. Now my eyesight never was good, but to make up for it I believe I had the sharpest ears that ever was, and I don't think anybody could have heard that whispering but me. I saw a little glimmer of light through the chinks that showed me where the door was, and so I crept up to it and put my ear to the key-hole. Still they whispered so low that no ears could a heard them but my sharp ones. They were talking about selling some woman and child. I should 'a' been uneasy if they hadn't called the woman Kate. My villain offered 'em five fifty dollars, but t'other villain wouldn't give a cent. He told my villain, as he called Captain, that he'd take 'em off his hands and no more. And then they threatened each other, and went out o' my hearin'. And in the morn n', the new villain took me and the child off in a chay and drove down a long way to the beach, and hailed a vessel on the river and took us aboard and sold us to the captain right afore my eyes, and then went ashore, and we was carried off out to sea, though I cried, and 'aplained, and apostulated all the time.

"Now, sir, some a strange providence, which the very thoughts of it migat convert a heathen! We had been to sea about five days when a dreadful storm rise. I tell you, master, that looked like the wrath of God! I hugged the baby to my breast—and went to praying as hard as ever I could pray.

"Presently I felt an awful shock, as if Heaven and earth had come together, and then everybody screaming, 'She's struck! She's struck! I felt the vessel trembling like a live creeter, and the water pouring in everywhere I hugged the babe and scrambled up the companion way to the deck. It was pitch dark, and I heard every man rushing toward one side of the vessel.

"A flash of lightning, that made everything as bright as day again, showed me that they were all taking to the boat. I rushed after, calling to them to save me and the baby. But no one seemed to hear me; they were all too busy trying to save themselves and keep others out of the boat, and cursing and swearing and hollering that there was no more room—that the boat would be swamped, and so on. The end was, that all who could crowd into the boat did so. And me and the baby and a poor sailor lad and the black cook were left behind to perish.

"But, master, as it turned out, we as' was to die, were the only ones saved. We watched after that boat with longing eyes, though we could only see it when the lightning flashed. And every time, we saw it it was farther off. At last, master, a flash of lightning showed us the boat as far off as ever we could see her, capsized and beaten hither and thither by the wild waves—its crew had perished.

"Master, as soon as the sea had swallowed up that wicked captain and crew, the wind died away, the waves fell, and the storm lulled—just as if it had done what it was sent to do and was satisfied. The wreck—where we forlorn ones stood—the wreck that had shivered and trembled at every wave that struck it—until we had feared it would break up every minute, became still and firm on its sandbar, as a house on dry land.

"Daylight came at last, and a little after sunrise we saw a sail bearing down upon us. We could not signal the craft, but by the mercy of Providence she saw us and lay to, and sent off a boat, and picked us up and took us on board—me and the baby, and the cook and the sailor lad.

It was a foreign vessel, and we could not understand a word they said, nor they us. All we could do was by signs. But they were very good to us, dried our clothes and gave us breakfast, and made us lie down and rest.—And then put about and continued their course. The sailor lad—Herbert Greyson—soon found out and told me they were bound for New York. And, in fact, master, in about ten days we made that port.

"Well, master, I sent a gwine to bother you with telling you how I toiled and struggled along in that great city—first living out as a servant, and afterwards renting a room and taking in washing and ironing—aye! how I toiled and struggled—for—ten—long—years, hoping for the time to come when I should be able to return to this neighborhood, where I was known, and expose the evil deeds of them villains, and for this cause I lived on toiling and struggling, and laying up money penny by penny.

"No one ever helped me but the lad Herbert Greyson. Whenever he came from sea, he sought me out, and made a little present to me or Cap.

"Cap, master, was Caprola, the child. The reason I gave her that name was because on that ring I had drawn from the masked villain's hand were the two names—Eugene—Caprola.

"Well, master, the last time Herbert Greyson came home, he gave me five dollars, and that, with what I had saved, was enough to pay my passage to Norfolk.

"I left my little Cap in the care of the people of the house—she was big enough to pay for her keep in work—and I took passage for Norfolk. When I got there I fell ill, spent all my money, and was at last taken to the poor house. Six months passed away before I was discharged, and then six more before I had earned and saved money enough to pay my way on here.

"I reached here three days ago, and found a wheat field growing where my cottage fire used to burn, and all my old cronies dead, all except old Hat, who has received and given me shelter. But, my story is done—make what you can of it," said the invalid, sinking down in her bed as if utterly exhausted.

Old Hurricane, whose countenance had expressed emotions as powerful as they were various while listening to this tale, now arose, stepped cautiously to the door, drew the bolt, and coming back, bent his head and asked—

"What more of it a child?

"Cap, sir? I have not heard a word of Cap since I left her to try and hunt out her friends. But any one interested in her might inquire for her at Mrs Simmons', laundress, No 8 Hag Alley."

"Pooh, nor—and the bell rang.

"Come in," responded Hurricane.

The old woman stripped off the outer cracking, and displayed a boot that beggared all description, gunned in the face. The astounded doctor arose, and exclaimed, "I am with you! I know it! I've shed a dozen! I came here to"

DYSPEPSIA AND INSANITY.—Hall, the Superintendent of the Maine Insane Hospital, sets forth the connection between dyspepsia and insanity in the following impressive manner:

Among the many pathological causes of disorder of the physical system connected with insanity, there is none more common than a deranged state of the stomach and bowels. Rarely do we meet an insane person in whom we do not find an irregular appetite, indigestion, and constipation. Not unfrequently these symptoms exist for a long time previous to the development of mental disturbance, and are we believe, among its primary causes, which with early attention and proper treatment might be removed, and save the individual from becoming an unfortunate victim to this dire disease.

Nothing tends so much to change the stomach from a normal to an abnormal condition as the present distorted habits of our people, and, as the brain is in immediate connection and sympathy with the stomach, its first upon the former is obvious. Many a headache and sleepless night, many a fit of sickness culminating in hopeless insanity, have their root in the quantity and quality of a late supper.

'Hopping Tom's noted rich spot, had the good fortune, at the depth of 25 feet, to come to a mass of gold quartz, of iron pyrites, and muscles, which yielded, upon being pounded with a hammer, the enormous amount of 1,150 pounds weight of gold. This is, I believe, the largest quantity that has ever been found in one spot on the western diggings. Language would fail to portray the intense excitement of this party, upon their sudden accession of wealth. It occupied them several hours to separate the gold and partially clean it; they had a two quart 'kitty' full of coarse gold, for which they were unhesitatingly offered £5,000 by a gold buyer, he refused to take it, preferring to forward it to the mint, accompanied by themselves, next assort.

The great "National Democratic Party" which, after the election of Mr. Buchanan, so haughtily prated itself upon its strength, and was declared by its organs to be immutably fixed in power, is now utterly without organization or respect in Congress, and its administration is unable to carry a single measure.—Nay—the President is himself in open hostility to his own administration—that is, his official advisers disagree with him on the most important questions of finance—and even upon measures, advanced by him as measures of party policy, (such as the purchase of Cuba) he cannot hold the party majority in Congress. The greatest distraction, however, exists upon the tariff question.—and this bids fair to cause the utter disruption of the party. This is of the more serious portent to the democracy, in asmuch as the heretofore effective machinery of the party ceases to be found to be useless—Members will not now recognize its authority or be bound by its decisions—and consequently there are no means of reducing rebels to obedience—if, indeed, it be possible to ascertain who are rebels. Thus we read, that the Pennsylvania democrats refused on Saturday evening to attend a regularly called general caucus but did have a private and special Anti Free-Trade caucus of their own—and that the President is urging them to perservere in opposition to the regular caucus! Thus, it is well said he is not only opposing his own administration, but his own party—while, on the other hand, his own party are opposing him, bitterly and determinedly, here at the North, upon other questions. The National Democratic organization bids fair to be found only southward of Mason & Dixon's line.—We suppose we shall be told it is not a sectional party.

The Pacific Lumber Trade. About 15,000,000 feet of lumber was shipped from Washington Territory for foreign countries, during the year 1853. With the exception of some cargoes to London, consisting partly of spars, these exports were to Australia, South America, China, the Sandwich Islands and Vancouver's Island.

From California about 7,000,000 feet of lumber was exported during the same year,—to Mexico, South America, Australia, Chile, and Vancouver.

There are now shingles upon the roof of the old Farmington, Connecticut, church which have been there 82 years, and are still serviceable. The Hartford Courant says that in 1776 the builders of the church chartered a vessel to go to Maine for shingles, and they brought some home that are 18 inches long and were three-fourths of an inch thick at the butt.—Put on with six inch lap, they are not half worn through to day, and are good for many a year longer.

The Des Moines State Journal of the 11th ult. says "A party of men, with a lady and children, passed through our city the other day, en route for the gold mines. They had three wagons and a buggy, and among the loading were, we understand, a billiard and roulette table. A quantity of liquors and a fast horse accompanied the train. Enlightened civilization is on its march westward!"

Public religious services were held in the National Theatre, Boston, Sunday evening last. Rev. Daniel C. Eddy, Baptist, preached a sermon.

The city of New York consumes annually 1,130,000,000 cubic feet of gas, at $2.50 per 1000 feet, amounting to no less than $2,825,000.

From Japan. Extract of a letter dated Hakodade, Jan 12th, published in the New Bedford Mercury.

New Bedford ships coming here for recruits repairs, &c., must be prepared with the money, and that in Mexican dollars,—which will bring 94 cents. Gold is of no account, worth only 22 cents on the dollar. Trade is worth about 25 per cent on the cost; in fact, trade is worth nothing. They go in for home industry,—they say what they cannot raise and make, there is no need of their having. On their feet they wear sandals while their Temples and gates of their Temple correspond with Old Testament times,—in fact I think I have seen "Jacob's Well" in all its primitive splendor.

I will say here that too much credit cannot be awarded to our Consensul Agent, E. E. Rice, Esq., for his untiring zeal in opening this port, and consolidating matters between the American and Japanese governments.

Life of John W. H. Hawkins.—Boston: John P. Jewett & Co. 1857.

The history of the simplified, the full, the struggle, and the final triumph over himself of this founder of the Washingtonian temperance reform—and also of his subsequent labors in the cause—a book which we have heretofore noticed as forthcoming—will be eagerly read, not only by every rescued victim of intemperance, but by every friend of the cause of reform. It is a very handsomely printed volume of 333 pages, with a fine portrait of the subject of the memoir,—the work being compiled by his son, Rev. William George Hawkins, A. M., and affectionately dedicated to his grandmother, "whose prayers for more than forty years have, under God, saved a son and given to her native country a philanthropist."

Domestic Economy. A New Magazine.—We have received the first number of a new Magazine—"The Hearthstone"—to be devoted exclusively to "Domestic Economy." It is filled with sensible, good matter, and we confess we have hope that a Magazine conducted expressly with a view to the improvement and elevation of this neglected and rearward portion of our civilization will be something more than a book book, and will really advance the cause to which it is devoted. The "Hearthstone" promises well. We hope it will not fall of its design. At least, we believe it will chronicle for us every new improvement in the arts which can be applied to domestic life, so that when light dawns on one part of our community, it will speedily be diffused to the rest.

But a larger field than this is before it. Our country has a great problem to solve; a work that will not be completed in a day, though it is fine by to be accomplished. It is how to make this Nation, with its free institutions, possess the refinements and advantages of domestic life, without a lower class of the people to perform personal service. Wherever Freedom exists this lower class will finally disappear.—It has already disappeared to some localities. What is to take its place? That is the problem. There are instances that machinery and improved methods of living may redeem Labor from its drudgery, and make us all independent of the service of others, save that which flows from affection and love; but much help is needed, many engines must be brought to bear,—the Press among the most powerful,—and much light is yet to dawn before the problem is solved. Said a gentleman, who was born in America, but resident in Europe, "I like to hail from America, and to call myself American, but I prefer to reside in Europe, because I can be so much more comfortable there. You have no servants here." True, and the end of trying to persuade people to resign their comforts and live here from love of American institutions, where there is no danger that ourselves or our children are to become servants, the wiser plan would be to strive to make all the comforts and luxuries of life compatible with free institutions, and dependent upon no lower class service. When servants of wood and iron take the place of human muscles, and better modes of living equalize and render attractive our labors, then we may believe in "a good time coming."

The subscription to "The Hearthstone," is but 50 cents a year. We should suppose many of our house-keepers would like to avail themselves of its opportunity to help themselves, and a cause in which they are all interested.

Those ladies who receive specimen numbers are requested to read them, and then lend them to others. C. H.

From Washington. The correspondent of the N. Y. Sun says the following conversation occurred at the White House the other day:

Said a Southern gentleman present, 'we can't go for a revision of the tariff—it's out of the question.' The President drew up fiercely and replied very firmly, 'Gentlemen, Congress will do as it pleased about the tariff, but some provision must be made for an increased revenue. If this Congress will not make that provision, I shall most certainly call upon another next summer to do it. If Democrats will not see to it that we have a change upon the revenue principle then I will take from the Republicans a change upon the protective principle!' You can rely upon the truth of this statement."

From the correspondence of the Baltimore American

"The overland mail to California costs $500,000 a year without the first particle of benefit to the public. It is the anomaly of a mail which carries no letters. When this scheme was drummed through Congress by the Postmaster General and his instrumentals, the bill gave him three alternatives—a monthly connection at $300,000 per annum, semi-monthly at $450,000, and biweekly at $600,000.—The whole subject was discretionary with him and he resolved into the experiment without regard to the Treasury or the convenience of the country, paying the enormous sum merely to prove that a coach may be run across a desert, and a few passengers may perform the feat of traveling in it for twenty-three or four days. The contract is for six years, and involves a dead loss of about four millions in round numbers. A contract for the identical service can now be made for a third of the money."

A Curious Case.—The Scotsman relates the following curious case of the recovery of a lost ring: About the end of July or the beginning of August last, a woman by the name of Catherine Ferguson, the wife of a miner, named McLean, at Clifton, near the head of Loch Lomond, lost her marriage ring, whilst engaged in building peats, and, notwithstanding every search was made for it at the time, it could not be found. About a fortnight ago the cat brought a rat into the house, and crowed the neck of the rat was found the missing marriage ring. It is supposed, as rats are known to carry off coins, or pieces of silver or gold, that the ring had been taken to the rat's nest, where it had gone over the neck of one of the young ones, and remained there until the animal had advanced in growth and, curious enough, had been captured by the cat.

The maternal parent of a four year old, a boy, complained one day that the milkman had left sour milk. When the dispenser of the lacteal fluid appeared next morning, Young America, who was up and dressed, said to him:—

"Mr. are your cows sour? Mamma says the milk is!"

The milkman stared and stammered, and has since dispensed a better article.—Boston Journal.

The funeral of Harvey Reed Esq., (whose death on the West Branch of the Penobscot was announced yesterday), will take place from his late residence in this city, to morrow Saturday, at 10 o'clock A. The Lovee for the benefit of the Female Orphan Asylum is to be given, we learn, on Thursday evening next, at Norumbega Hall, when an entertainment will be presented of a novel and interesting character, and one which will, we are confident, draw a full house, and thus materially aid the funds of a deserving charity. The Managers will give due notice, we presume, of the nature and details of the exhibition.

A Man Drugged and Robbed—Another Case of Speedy Arrest.—At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, information was lodged with detectives Walker and Bicknell that a man named Levi Bagley had been drugged, and robbed of $150 or $175 the night before, at some place on Exchange Street. The case was immediately taken in hand, and in less than two hours from the time of the first information, as we are informed, between $50 and $60 of the stolen money was recovered, and two rogues were under lock and key, to await the operation of the law.

The case appears to be an aggravated one. Mr. Bagley is a farmer, as we are informed, and has recently sold a farm in the town of Bradford. He came to the city a few days since, and had from $150 to $200 in money about his person. On Wednesday night, having drank some liquor in the course of the evening, he found himself on Exchange street, recovering from stupefaction, and robbed of all his money, except a small sum which was in a separate place. He had no recollection of where he had been, or how he came in the street. He obtained assistance, and finally reached his boarding-place. The next day, as stated above, Messrs Walker and Bicknell learned of the robbery, and soon ascertained that a man by the name of Michael Mangan, who keeps a groggery on Exchange street, had been flush of money that day, and also some circumstances calculated to implicate a young man named O'Mara. Walker sent for Mangan, as he informs us, and put the case to him in so convincing a light, that he at length owned up—declaring that after Bagley had drank at his place, O'Mara robbed him and he and Mangan divided the money. Circumstances render it quite certain that the liquor which Bagley drank was drugged.

Total Eclipse of the Moon—An Exhibition for Early Risers.—On the morning of Thursday next, (Feb. 17th,) a total eclipse of the moon will take place,—visible in nearly all parts of the United States. The time for Portland is put down in the American Almanac as follows:—Eclipse commences at 16 minutes past 4 in the morning, and ends at 48 minutes past 7. According to this, the fulness of the eclipse must occur after daylight.

Three in Accordance.—Mr. Ivory B. Gurr of No. 2, writes to the Maine Farmer as follows, in regard to the progress of immigration, the success of the new settlements &c. He says: "We are having remarkably pleasant weather. The snow is about two feet in depth. It has been a very dry winter. Lumber operators are doing a very good business. Hay is selling at from $10 to $12 per ton, pressed, and large quantities are being hauled down river, for sale at Mattawamkeag, Lincoln, Oldtown, &c. Immigration is pouring in fast—Some fifty, or more, have located here the past season, and several families have moved in this winter. The State, as well as the old settlers, may well be proud of such smart and active citizens as they generally appear to be. Golden Ridge is now about all settled up, at least so much of it as lies in this township. There is yet room in the East half of No. 2, it being a part of Golden Ridge, which extends North and South through Township Nos. 2 and 3. Some 150 acres of trees are been felled in this township, the past season."

A runaway horse, in Hallowell, on Wednesday last, smashed up the sleigh to which he was harnessed, knocked down a boy, and broke a couple of ribs for Mr. Bryant Gately.

Disasters to Maine Vessels.—Sch. Marcia Farrow, Glover, of and from Rockland 30 h ult, for New Orleans with lime, encountered a tremendous gale 2d inst, and had bulwarks and galley stove, boat swept away, main boom broken and sprung aleak, which set the cargo on fire. Both pumps were kept continually going till the fourth inst, when about five P. M., in lat 37 55, lon 67 47, bq que Gen Taylor, from Musquito for Boston, went to her assistance and took off all hands and brought them to Boston. When abandoned the schooner's cabin was half full of water, and the cargo on fire. She was a good vessel of 150 tons and is partially insured in Rockland.

The case of sch Z. Secor, of Orland, Me, has been settled between the owner and the parties to whom she was sold when ashore, by which the latter retain possession of her. The schooner has been taken upon the railway and found in good condition. She will not need a new plank, her bottom is somewhat chafed, the shoeing of her keel is off and the keel is somewhat broomed up.

The wreck of barque N. G. Hichborn, which went ashore at the south side of Nantucket last spring, floated during an unusually high tide last week, and now lies at Low Beach, where it will be broken up.

Sch. Dolphin, Keller, now at Machiasport, is chartered to load boards for Porto Rico.—Boards at $12 50 cash. Freight out free, freight home forty-five cents on sugar. Three dollars on deck load molasses.—Machias Republican.

M Gorgia, a distinguished German Professor, has originated an interesting experiment to illustrate on of the formation of mountains. He melts certain substances of different specific gravity in a vessel, allowing them to cool gradually. At first there is an even surface, but it soon cracks open, and portions of the lower strata come up and form gradual elevations, until ranges and chains of hills are formed, corresponding in shape with those found on the earth. Even to the stratification, the resemblance is said to be surprisingly complete, and Gorgia also produces, in a similar manner, on a small scale, the phenomena of volcanoes.

How to Make Candy. Dr. Cummings of the Brattleboro Phœnix, who knows many things, thus treats his readers to a recipe for making molasses candy, which is one of our "peculiar institutions": Take two cups of molasses, one of sugar, one table spoonful of vinegar, a piece of butter the size of a walnut. Boil briskly and constantly twenty minutes, stirring all the time; when cooled enough to pull, do it quickly, and it will come white rapidly. Use the above proportions and follow directions, and you will have good candy.

To the Citizens of Bangor.
CITY OF BANGOR, January, 1859.

MR LEWIS WATERMAN, proposes to number the streets of our city upon a plan which will mainly obviate the necessity of renumbering afterwards, on account of the erection of new buildings, or each street is to be carefully measured, and the numbers to be arranged with reference to such probable new erections the owner will receive commendations from other cities and towns where he has heretofore performed similar services, which are satisfactory to us. It is hoped that the citizens of Bangor will avail themselves of this opportunity for effecting the proposed improvement, the expense being small.

The Bear Hook and Ladder Company, No. 3, take this method of correcting the unmeasured misrepresentations contained in an article signed "Citizen." It seems to the determination of the Bangor Cornet Band to intrude themselves upon the public, and whether truthfully or not, to create the impression that they have been opposed by the Bear Hook and Ladder Company.

"Citizen's" chief intimation that the Bangor public are behind other communities in generously towards Military Bands. A more contemptible insinuation was never made. This public have, at different times, subscribed funds to the amount of from $1500 to $2000 for the support and encouragement of Military Bands. These funds have been paid to different organizations of this kind, and these same Bands have been, through the misconduct of some who now belong to the Bangor Cornet Band, destroyed. This public have paid, over and over again, for the support of a Military Band. It is more than probable that they will wait and determine who are worthy before they again contribute their money.

"Citizen" says that the Bangor Cornet Band have paid nearly $1000 for their march talked of new movements. It is a base fabrication. They have not paid one cent—neither are the instruments now,—and their original cost was about $650, though they can now be bought for much less. They were purchased, and paid for, by the citizens of Belfast, for the use of the Belfast Band, and are liable to be reclaimed at any time. A Mr. Rounds, of Bangor, it is said, bought the claim of one individual and paid $50 for it. This we do not give credence to with our knowledge of this person's integrity as a business man.

So far from being opposed the Bangor Cornet Band announced, through this Mr Rounds, and publicly, too, that their concert and ball would take place upon Thursday evening of this week. We ask, then, why they changed their evening? As soon as it was known the the Bear Hook and Ladder Company were to have a social dance this same Mr. Rounds made it his business to mislead all who came in his way and charged the Cornet Cornet Band with the responsibility of the whole matter. They had nothing to do with the matter, except as they were hired, and paid by us for their services.

In conclusion we would suggest to Mr Rounds (par excellence) that he cultivate the habit of speaking the truth, and by so doing improve both his manners and morals.

We beg to announce our intention of giving another public dance on the coming 4th of March. If it is needed, we shall like the company of Mr Rounds, and the Bangor Cornet Band—but not otherwise.

DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

TELEGRAPHIC

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10th.

SENATE.—A communication was received from the Secretary of War embodying information respecting British claims to proprietary rights in Washington and Oregon territories

The Senate amended resolution was adopted

Mr Green from the Committee on Territories reported adversely on the petition of O Reilly, Speed and Shaffner for aid in constructing a telegraph line to the Pacific.

Mr Seward attempted to call up his resolution to admit the contestants for the Indiana seats to the floor of Senate.

Mr Bayard opposed.

When the hour set apart for the consideration of Mr Bigler's tariff resolution had arrived, Mr Clingman took the floor and spoke at great length against Mr Bigler's protection views.

Mr Clingman said he had been instructed by the Legislature of his State to oppose any increase of duties and to insist on the importation of railroad iron free of duty.

The President in his message had recommended specific duties and the friends of taxation had seized the opportunity to ask for protection

Mr Simmons of R. I., replied in a lengthened speech His views were generally in favor of a fixed ad valorem duty the price to be determined by law and not by the importer.—He was opposed to an increase of postage. The subject was postponed till to morrow, when Mr Hunter has the floor

Mr Seward again attempted to procure the consideration of his resolution respecting the Indiana Senators and after much debate the question was decided not to take it up, 20 against 19.

The Cuba Bill was taken up

Mr Foot of Vermont moved an amendment that no payment shall be made until the treaty be ratified by the United States.

Mr Pugh of Ohio, spoke for two hours, reviewing the lowering appropriate the Spanish possession of Cuba once was, it is no longer a mammoth as she has lost every inch of gun boat, and that no power on earth has now so much reason for its possession as the United States as we own practically the whole country and much of the coast of the Gulf, and are entitled to the key which locks and unlocks, moreover, the government of Cuba is such as can be tolerated by any liberal government, and is one which offers no redress for outrages on our citizens.

Mr Benjamin of La., obtained the floor, when the Senate, at a late hour, adjourned

HOUSE.—The consideration of the Nebraska contested election case was resumed

After debate, the Nebraska case was tabled

Mr Stephens then reported back from the Territorial Committee without amendment, the Senate bill for the admission of Oregon, and proceeded to speak in favor of the admission of Oregon

Mr Grow, referring to the Kansas restriction said the population of that Territory was greater than that of Oregon, and he would never give his sanction to such unjust restriction as was proposed in favor of Oregon

Mr Hughes of Indiana charged the Republicans with opposing the Oregon Bill, because the Territory was democratic

Mr Nelson of Ohio, advocated the admission of Oregon, and repudiated its being a party question

Mr Granger of New York, opposed the admission objecting to the principle in the enumeration allowing unnaturalized foreigners to vote. He also opposed the provision which prohibits negroes from acting in the militia.

Mr Maynard of Tenn opposed the bill because it granted the right of suffrage to unnaturalized foreigners

On motion of Mr Stephens, the vote on the bill was fixed for Saturday at noon

The House then went into committee of the whole, and no quorum being present, the committee took a recess till 7 o'clock

WASHINGTON, 10th.

A letter from Paris, from a prominent source states on information from Madrid, that it is highly probable Mr Preston will be received as U S Minister but if he should be, the first instruction from him relative to the purchase of Cuba would be deemed sufficient ground for giving him his passports Our government, however, is not in receipt of any official information from Spain on that subject

It is stated in well informed circles the retirement by Miramon of Zuloaga to the Presidency in Mexico, was at the instance of France and England, who have an especial interest in his administration, in connection with a due to these governments,

The effect of vote in the House to-day lays the Nebraska contested election case on the table, is to continue Judge Ferguson in the seat as delegate from that Territory.

The impression prevails that the proposition for money at the command of the President to negotiate for the acquisition of Cuba, will pass the Senate but will be defeated by a large majority in the House.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 9.

The Pacific Railroad Convention adjourned last night having adopted a report to the effect that the most practicable route to connect the Eastern and Western sections of the Union, is from Memphis via Little Rock, Fulton and El Paso to San Diego

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 10.

The Whig State Convention met in the city of Richmond to-day was very largely attended Wm Ballard Preston was chosen President The committee of nominations reported for Governor, William L. Goggin of Bedford, The announcement was loudly cheered, and the report adopted The remaining nominations will be made to-morrow. The convention was composed of highly respectable men, and great enthusiasm prevailed

A NEW CONTRABAND.—New York, 9th.—New counterfeit fives on the Concord Bank of New Hampshire, were put in circulation yesterday.

Legislature of Maine.

WEDNESDAY, 9th.

In the Senate.

Mr. Wing, from the Joint Select Committee on Printing and Binding, reported that they had contracted with Messrs Stevens & Sayward to do the printing, and with Messrs Hartford & Smith to do the binding for the current political year, agreeably to contracts accompanying.

Mr Marshall presented the remonstrance of James Staples and others of Stockton; also of Everett H. French and others of Stockton; also of Salesman of Stockton.—all against any alteration of the line between Stockton and Prospect. Referred.

Mr Hamlin, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill authorizing towns and cities to procure the writing and publication of histories of the same. Read and assigned.

On motion of Mr Hamlin,

Ordered, That the Committee on the Judiciary, be directed to inquire into the expediency of allowing parties charged with offences the privilege of testifying upon their trial

Mr Chisel called up the resolve authorizing the Land Agent to grant permits in certain cases to mill-owners.

Mr Carleton moved to amend by substituting settlers for "mill owners."

Mr Chisel inquired if mill owners were not to be regarded as "settlers."

Mr Carleton said if they were residents they would be regarded as "settlers."

Mr Hamlin stated the condition on which mill sites had been granted The object was simply to allow the settlers and mill owners to cut off of ten acre lands enough to supply the local market. He further explained the resolve.

Mr Carleton replied, and withdrew his amendment to give place to one which Mr Shinesfield afterwards presented His amendment to secure the privilege to settlers and resident mill owners.

Mr Berry moved that the resolve and amendments be recommitted

After debate, the motion prevailed.

In the House

Papers presented and referred—Petition of John Neptune and other Penobscot Indians, for a salary to their Governor, remonstrance of Stetson & Co and others, against the incorporation of No. 8, Range 4, with the Danforth tract, of Everett H. French and others, of Jas Staples and als, and of the Selectmen of Stockton, against any alteration of the line between Stockton and Prospect.

Passed to be enacted—An act to annex to the town of Bradley the gore south of the same.

The Committee on Elections, reported a resolve giving a seat in the House to George L. Howard

The question being on the passage of the resolve, Mr Lebroke of Foxcroft, moved to lay on the table

The resolve was then laid on the table and to-morrow assigned for its further consideration

Mr Burbank of Lewiston, spoke in favor of the project.

Mr Prentiss spoke on the same side

On motion of Mr Wells of Freeport, the resolve was tabled

[Mr Potter of Lowell, (administration democrat) offered a resolution instructing our Senators and requesting our representatives in Congress to vote for any "honorable measure looking to the early acquisition of Cuba." Mr P. prefaced its introduction by a long speech, setting the beauties, the resources, and the trade of that delightful island at a very high figure indeed, and making many deceptive assumptions as to the benefit to be derived from annexation. After which the resolve was laid on the table.]

WASHINGTON, Feb 9. The Navy Department is in receipt of official news from Commander Totten, of the sloop-of-war Vincennes, giving details of an alleged British outrage upon an American vessel on the coast of Africa. The substance is that the American brig Rufus Soule from Matanzas, while on that coast, was boarded on the 11th October by the British steamer Viper, searched and burnt.

The correspondence between Commander Totten and the captain of the Viper shows that at the time of the alleged outrage, the R. Soule had the American flag flying, but the captain threw his papers overboard when called on to show them. The captain of the R. Soule has been before reported

The New York Tribune of Saturday contained a paragraph stating that Dr. B A Gould is to succeed Mr Bond at Cambridge, which found its way into our columns of Monday We learn that there is no foundation whatever for the statement.—Boston Atlas & Bee

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of Maine

THE undersigned represent, that they are the owners of a certain steam saw mill in the town of Brewer, on the east side of the Penobscot river, and of certain land measuring about one hundred and twelve rods on the shore of said river, above, and in the neighborhood of a certain point, called Brankett's Point—that it is very important to them, in order to protect their property and carry on their business successfully, to extend from their said land, two wharves, one from their upper and the other from their lower line, not exceeding fifty feet beyond low water mark into said river, and to erect a pier about twenty five feet square between and on a line with them—that such wharves and pier may be so built as not to interfere with the common navigation of the river, but on the other hand, to be of more benefit than injury to navigation—They, therefore, pray that they may be authorized by your Honorable bodies, to extend such wharves and pier into the Penobscot river as aforesaid, not exceeding fifty feet beyond low water mark, and as in duty bound will ever pray

LINCOLN'S
WATER PROOF BLACKING, AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE.

Keep your Feet dry, and you will seldom need a Physician.

Is it not a truth that when the feet are often wet, it is one of the greatest causes of colds and consumption? Is it a truth that when leather is often wet and dried, it soon becomes hard, stiff, and tenderless, but when it is water-proof this is remedied. By the application of this preservative, it remains soft, and entirely impervious to water.

After being engaged for 25 years in the manufacture of leather in all its branches, and being often troubled with wet feet myself, I was led to experimenting on different compositions, and found it easy to make it water-proof, but at the same time extremely injurious to the leather. At last by a chemical process, I discovered a preparation which perfectly harmonizes with the astringent properties with which leather is tanned. It will not only make leather water-proof, but it likewise softens the leather, and it will Positively Wear twice as long.

I have now used it for three years, and a large part of that time have worked in a wet Tannery with my boots constantly in water, and have not had my feet wet during that time. I can therefore in all confidence, recommend it to the public as the best article in the market.

Torrey's Bee Hive.

THE subscriber, having purchased the right of making and selling Lemas' Patent Bee Hive for the Counties of Penobscot, Lincoln and Aroostook, which has been patented with so much favor, and taken the first premiums wherever exhibited, has invented an improvement upon the Bee Hive and is now prepared to make the same in connection with the Dead Parlour, and to sell rights to towns and individuals.

This Bee Hive, thus improved, is admitted by persons acquainted with the honey-making business to be as perfect in every thing yet invented for the purpose. It secures and the practicable maintenance of the queen; by providing for ventilation at all seasons of the year—room for the increase and feed of the queen—convenience for the removal of excrement, for the proper separation of the swarms, and generally for the health and comfort of the workers.

The boxes used in this Hive for storing honey are the best adapted to them now in the market, holding from three to six pounds each.

The subscriber wishes to purchase one hundred swarms of bees in exchange for new hives and undertakes rights to

For said City swarms of Bees, with the new hive.

American Safety Paper Manufacturing Company of N. Y.

Capital $500,000.

A. BRADLEY, President. Office, 79 Wall st.

A Perfect Security against all manner of Fraud or Counterfeiting on Paper.—To Prevent Fluid, Pungent and Acid Erasures, Discolorations, Removal, Re-use and Alterations.

HAVING purchased the Patent for the sole and exclusive right to manufacture and sell the Chemical Paper in America, invented and patented in England by HENRY GILBEE, a celebrated chemist and officer in the British army. It is hardly necessary to say that the Paper is pronounced by Mr. Rossi, Assayer of the U. S. Mint, Mr. Lyman of the New York Customs House, and Hoole Brothers, extensive and skilful photographers, 233 Broadway, N. Y. The latter say that no erasures can be made on a check or bank note printed on the Safety Paper. Believing our use of paper:

Bank Checks—25 cts. per lb.
Bank Bills—$25 for 1000 sheets.
Bills of Exchange—$25 for 1000 sheets.
Promissory Notes—50 cts. per lb
Sight and Time Drafts—$25 for 1000 sheets.
Insurance Policies—50 cts. per lb.
Railroad Bonds and Bonds—50 cts. per lb
Bank and State Bonds—50 cts. per lb.
Bonds and Mortgages—50 cts. per lb.
Wills and Deeds—50 cts. per lb.

For wrapping Silks and other fine articles it is excellent, as it prevents moths. 40 cts. a lb.

For Indentures and Agreements, 40 cts a lb.

All Stamp and County Records should always be printed on this paper, as the chemical inserted in the pulp not only prevents erasure or transfer, but makes it lasting as time.

For Southern climates it is excellent, and much superior to any other, as the moistness of the climate does not destroy it—the proportion inserted in the pulp being a preservative. In all the Southern States, Cuba, the West Indies, and the Central American States, no public records can be kept over 20 years, written on the ordinary paper, while the mice and other vermin inserted in this paper makes it indestructible by the ravages of time. It is also proof against moths, rats and other vermin, which feast on and destroy all other papers now in use.

The Company have now in operation Mills in Morris County, N. J., of about 300 horse power, and are ready to fill all orders for Paper at the shortest notice.

All orders for the Paper must be addressed to A. NICHOLAS, President of the Company, No. 79 Wall street, New York

American & Foreign Patents.

H. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S Patent Office, Washington under the Act of 1837,)

76 State St., opposite Kilby St.,
BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with correctness. Researches made in the American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and opinions rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of importance the practicability of inventions unexpressed by, and unascertainable by experts in any other one office. The Commissioner has always given great name is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the examiner; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, it would add that he has abundant reasons to assure, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The extensive practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast number of special claims and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and the accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

An necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS

"Boston, February 9 1858.

Mr. H. H. Eddy has made over 200 applications for patents in all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such successful practice of course is owing to care and ability on his part which entitle him to recommendation, and I cheerfully do so. I presume those persons who may wish to employ the said Eddy to procure patents will find him faithful in the discharge of his duties and his charges fair and very reasonable.

JOHN TAGGERT

From Sept. 17 t., 1857, to June 17th, 1858, the subscriber, in course of his large practice made on rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents

Dear Sir:—During the last year I have sold some 300 packages of your Mustang Condition Powders, for Horses and Colts, and in no instance that I have heard of, have they failed of giving entire satisfaction.

I regard them as the best of all the Horse specifics now in the market, and am not alone in this opinion, for the same keepers and owners of horses who have tried them in this vicinity.

I cheerfully give my testimony a favor of their Powders, and advise all interested to give them a trial. Very respectfully yours
